About the Trust

The Summerfield Charitable Trust was established by Ronald Summerfield, a Cheltenham antique dealer, shortly before his death in 1989. The Trustees have discretion as to which charitable uses to apply the funds.

In 2005 £356,895 was distributed in a total of 70 grants, from £500 upwards. A copy of the latest Trust accounts is available upon request.

Charities applying to the Trust must either be based in Gloucestershire or they must be engaged in a project that is of specific benefit to residents of the county.

Viewed especially favourably are projects and organisations working in:

- The arts, museums and the built heritage;
- The environment and natural heritage;
- Community work;
- Education, sport and recreation;
- Vulnerable or disadvantaged sectors of society.

THE TRUSTEES ENCOURAGE APPLICANTS TO SHOW THEY HAVE CONSIDERED:

- The impact of their project on the environment;
- Planning for long term self sufficiency;
- The potential to work in partnership with other statutory and non-statutory funders;
- Their active involvement with the people who will benefit.

Individuals are very rarely supported. They must be residents of Gloucestershire. Trustees request individuals to use a specialist charity to sponsor their application.

Donations are not given to:

- medical research;
- private education;
- animal welfare appeals;
- fund trips abroad;
- projects that have already taken place.

PROCEDURE: The Trustees meet quarterly - usually in January, April, July, and October - to consider all applications received prior to the deadline dates (5th December, 5th March, 5th June and 5th September). These dates are occasionally subject to change.

TO APPLY: Applicants must log on to our website to view information about eligibility for funding and download a copy of the current guidelines and a grant application cover sheet. A cover sheet must be completed and returned before an application can be submitted to the Trustees. If you have any queries at any stage of the application process, you are welcome to email or telephone me. Please note that I often ask one of our independent advisers to visit organisations who apply to the Trust. I aim to inform applicants of the Trustees' decisions as soon as possible after the quarterly meetings. We do not accept faxed or emailed applications.

Introduction

During 2005 the Summerfield Trust donated £356,895 to a wide variety of good causes. In line with our stated policy these grants were made exclusively to beneficiaries based in Gloucestershire. In this report there is a detailed analysis of the grants, and this highlights the varying sizes of the grants.

During the year we undertook a major strategy review. Our administrator, Lavinia Sidgwick consulted a large number of organisations across the whole county, including the County Council, Social Services, other grant-makers and beneficiaries in order to try to identify areas of unmet need, and potential projects and initiatives where we could make a real difference. The outcome of this review is reflected in our revised guidelines. We continue to encourage as diverse a range of applicants as possible, and we are keen to be involved in projects, both large and small, that are imaginative and to which we can make a significant contribution.

We conducted a review of our investment strategy in conjunction with our advisers. There has been a substantial rise in the value of our investments. We also reviewed our operating procedures, and simplified them as much as possible.

We continued to give substantial support to the Arts, and during the year we gave a further £20,000 to Brewery Arts in Cirencester for them to develop their site in the town as artists' studios, workshops and exhibition space. The 2004 Rome scholar recipient, Lily Musker delivered her commissioned portrait of three of the trustees, which is now part of the Summerfield Collection, currently hanging in St. James' House in Cheltenham. We also changed the nature of our annual grant to Cheltenham Arts Festivals. Instead of making a general donation towards all four Festivals, the trustees agreed a two year grant with the possibility of a third year, to fund the salary of a specific Education Manager to be responsible for education and outreach for all the Festivals.

The trustees are greatly helped in assessing applications by our team of volunteer advisers. We held a successful seminar day with the advisers, including a workshop in understanding accounts from our accountants Buzzacott. The trustees also met with Buzzacott in order to review the new SORP 2005 reporting regulations, and this is reflected in our annual accounts.

The wide range of applicants creates a demanding level of understanding for the Trustees, combined with an ability to decide on the relative merits of different projects in different fields. They are greatly helped in this by our team of volunteer advisers, our administrator, Lavinia Sidgwick, and by our secretary, Tracey Price. Sadly Tracey has decided to retire in May: we are grateful for her skilful help, and wish her well in the future.

Finally I would like to thank my co-trustees for the generous allocation of their time. They are all busy people with their own careers and yet they find the time to do this work with unfailing good humour. They help to make Gloucestershire a better place.

About the Trustees

CHARLES FISHER

Charles Fisher went to school in Cheltenham, and then graduated from Oxford University. He has pursued a career in business and was Chairman & Chief Executive of Sharpe & Fisher plc from 1989 to 1999. He is currently Chairman of a number of major companies. He was also the Chairman of Cheltenham Arts Festivals Ltd from 1990 to 1995. He became Chairman of the Trustees in 1999.

JAMILA GAVIN

Born in India, Jamila Gavin has lived in Gloucestershire for over thirty years. First a piano scholar at Trinity College of Music, London, then in Paris, she finally joined the BBC and worked as P.A. Director for Music and Arts on Television. On moving to Gloucestershire she turned to writing children's books, and has since produced numerous stories and novels for the whole age range, as well as plays for the stage, radio and television. She was runner up for the Guardian Children's Fiction Award, has been shortlisted for numerous other awards, such as The Smarties Prize and the Carnegie Award, and was winner of the Whitbread Children's Book of the Year Award in 2000.

GILBERT GREENALL

Gilbert Greenall served in the army after going to Sandhurst. He subsequently trained as a doctor and was Senior House Officer at Cheltenham General Hospital. Since 1979 he has specialised in humanitarian emergencies and post conflict recovery, and is a member of the United Nations Disaster Assessment & Co-ordination team. He has led missions in many countries in recent years, including East Timor, Kosovo, Mozambique and Albania. He has also worked for the European Union and the Department for International Development.

JAN URBAN-SMITH

Jan Urban-Smith has lived and worked in Gloucestershire for the last 26 years. She has been an English teacher, Head of Sixth Form and Deputy Headteacher. She currently works as an adviser for the Local Education Authority.

RICHARD WAKEFORD

Richard Wakeford lives in Winchcombe and is a senior executive, with wide experience in rural and environmental issues. He is currently Head of the Scottish Executive Environment and Rural Affairs Department, having previously been Chief Executive of the Countryside Agency.
